BIOGRAPHY

Théodore Hugonnier is a director of photography based in Paris.

After studying art history, then cinema in London, and the discovery of fashion photography, Théodore began to collaborate with brands such as Louis Vuitton, Dior, Valentino, Off-White, with directors such as Rémi Lamandé or Samuel Rixon.

At the same time, he developed his know-how on music videos, with for example Pause x Kiss - Eddy by Pretto and Yseult, directed by Colin Solal Cardo. He also collaborates on art films with his sister, the artist Marine Hugonnier. Their work will be presented during an exhibition in 2022 at the Musée du Jeu de Paume.

Rocked from childhood by the films of David Fincher, Steven Spielberg, Tim Burton, David Lynch, the Coen brothers or Korean independent cinema, fascinated by painters such as Gerhard Richter, John Martin, Bruegel, De la Tour, inspired by photographers Hiroshi Sugimoto and Ansel Adams, Théodore Hugonnier is attracted by original projects, with a cinematographic identity, paving the way for a lasting collaboration with artists, directors, to put his sensitivity and talent to good use.

His first short film Voyeur(s), directed by Arthur Delaire and Edouard de Luze is currently broadcast on OCS.
