BIOGRAPHY

Born in France in 1982, Romain Alary's extensive travels have enabled him to widen his knowledge and horizons just like his life in Tokyo, Japan, a country that still inspires him today. Romain also trained simultaneously for several years as a camera assistant on advertising projects and narratives.

As a director of photography, he has worked on a wide range of commercials, music videos, documentaries and art films.

His talent and his sensitivity have thus led him to accompany directors such as Steven Meisel, Albert Moya, Summers Vallis, Neels Castillon, Axel Morin, Félix Cooper, Benn Northover, Laura Weaver or Jake Nava, for brands like Nina Ricci, Cartier, Acne, Chanel, Yves Saint-Laurent, Givenchy, Lanvin, Dior, Louboutin, Fendi, Zalando and many more.

Romain has also won several awards and is regularly nominated in festivals, such as the Silver Lion at Cannes in 2013 for his work on Honda The Centaur, directed by Alexander Kalchev, or for the Sanzhi clip, directed by Antoine Levi, which was nominated for the best photography award at the Camerimage Festival 2019, and the music video for DARIUS feat. Lost in the moment by Wayne Snowlost directed by Lisa Paclet won the 2018 Berlin Fashion Film Festival
